COUNCIL MEMBERS CELEBRATE BLUEPRINT SCHOOL OPENINGS!

Council Members were among County leaders celebrating the opening of five new schools this past week. Under the model Blueprint Schools partnership, these new buildings are providing state of the art learning environments for thousands of Prince George's County school students.

Council Member Wanika Fisher proudly cut the ribbon at two brand new schools in District 2 – Hyattsville Middle School and Sonia Sotomayor Middle School, telling the audience, “There is nothing as special as investing in our children.”

Council Member Krystal Oriadha participated in the ribbon-cutting for the beautiful, new Drew-Freeman Middle School in District 7, stating, “I am excited for these scholars and all this new building has to offer them!”

Council Member Jolene Ivey was happy to cut the ribbon and celebrate the opening of Kenmoor Middle School. “I’m so glad the students and teachers at Kenmoor Middle School are learning and working in a beautiful, well-designed building. Go, Cobras,” Ivey said.

Council Vice Chair Wala Blegay was honored to speak and participate in the ribbon cutting for Walker Mill Middle School. “I admire the collaboration that leaders took to bring new state-of-the-art facilities to my district,” Blegay said.
